DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-4, 6, 7, 9-12, 14, 17, 19, 21, 23, 25-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giampavolo et al ('246) in view of Heuss et al. The patent to Giampavolo et al teaches structure substantially as claimed including a guard including guard sections, joint, signage accepting structure, the only difference being that the guard sections does not include a bottom portion wider than the top portion. However, the patent to Heuss et al teaches the use of providing a wedge shaped member to provide better strength and stability. It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to modify the structure of Giampavolo et al to include wedge shaped portions, as taught by Heuss et al since such structures are conventional structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 14 is allowable over the prior art of record.

Claims 13, 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patent to Blazey et al teaches structure similar to applicant's.
